CanWEA's 32nd Annual Awards:
Adam Rosso, Director of Project Development in Ontario at Boralex, Receives the Matt Holder Community Connection Award

Montreal, April 5, 2017 – Boralex Inc. ("Boralex" or the "Corporation") (TSX: BLX) is proud to announce that Adam Rosso, Director of Project Development in Ontario at Boralex, received the Matt Holder Community Connection Award at the 32nd Annual Awards of the Canadian Wind Energy Association (CanWEA), which took place last night in Gatineau.

"I am extremely proud of the achievements of our colleague Adam and his team," said Patrick Lemaire, President and Chief Executive Officer of Boralex. "Adam's leadership and commitment to do things right created an environment based on trust and respect within the communities where we work. It is to the quality of these relationships that we owe the success of our projects."

The Matt Holder Community Connection Award was established to recognize the efforts of a company or an individual that has developed meaningful relationships with the communities in which it develops, builds or operates projects. As a finalist alongside Kruger Energy Inc., Adam Rosso distinguished himself during the development of the Niagara Region Wind Farm by his ability to build strong, respectful relationships with local and First Nation partners.
